OVER 150 DIE IN FOREST FIRES

OTHER PARTIES ARE MISSING

Fire Fighters Demoralized, but Rains Are Checking Conflagrations.

SPOKANE, Aug. 24.—Forest Supervisor W. R. Weigle today gave out a statement that the known loss of men employed by the Coeur d'Alene national forest was 94. There are 185 men missing in the Halm and Fern parties. Weigle expects at least some loss of life in these parties, as well as in that of Kottkey, who is safe, but has not made an official report.

The fire fighters are thoroughly demoralized by the heavy loss of life. They are still fighting small fires, but the bigger ones have got beyond control. The fires that threatened the towns have burned themselves out.

It is believed that more than 150 persons, nearly all fire fighters, perished in the Idaho forest fires. Superintendent Weigle of the Coeur d'Alene forest after receiving many reports of disaster to various parties of his employes, posted a bulletin today in his office at Wallace announcing the death of 51 of the men, and also stated his grave concern for the safety of Ranger Joseph B. Halm and 94 men who were surrounded by fires in the forest on the Big fork of the Coeur d'Alene river, near where another party lost 13 men. Halm was for four years the best athlete of the Washington State college at Pullman, a renowned football and baseball player.

Twenty Bodies Found.

The charred bodies of 20 fire fighters were found yesterday on Setser creek, in the St. Joe country. Two burned Japanese dragged themselves to Avery, Idaho, last night and told of the death of 10 of their comrades. The 12 men, employes of the Milwaukee railroad, had gone out to fight the fire and had been surrounded by flames, only two men escaping death.

The number of deaths in the state of Washington was reduced to three all in the Pend d'Oreille valley, near Newport. One of these victims, Mrs. Ernest Deinhardt, wife of a rancher, was the only woman known to have been burned to death in any of the fires.

It will be noted that nearly all the dead were fire fighters. The wholesale loss of life included Saturday and Sunday, when great bodies of men were striving to check the flames in order to save the various towns that were threatened. The names of many of the dead will never be known. The rangers employed all the able-bodied men whom they could press into the service.

Rain Checking Flames.

With the towns out of danger, and the settlers in places of safety, the rangers were able to devote themselves entirely today to the saving of the trees. Various fires are isolated and will decrease for lack of food. In Montana rain and snow fell checking the flames. In Spokane today the sun shone clear and even in Wallace the smoke cloud was lifted.

No one ventures to estimate the financial loss, for the extent of the burned area is not fully known.

Although for convenience all the government fire fighters have been spoken of as rangers, only a few of them are regularly in the forest service, a great number having been sent to the fire lines by employment agencies in Spokane who advertised for them in the usual way upon the agency bulletin boards, offering 25 cents an hour, free board and beds.

Many of the men thus employed were railroad laborers and miners used to

TEMPERATURE FALLS 51 DEGREES IN FEW HOURS

Coldest August Weather Recorded in Colorado Springs—Temperature 38 at 2:30 This Morning.

All records for cold August weather in Colorado Springs were broken this (Thursday) morning, when the thermometer at the government station at Colorado College stood at 38 degrees at 2:30 o'clock. According to the weather observer, the mercury has shown a steady drop since 6 o'clock last evening, and should reach 37 degrees before dawn, making a difference of 51 degrees from the record at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when 88 degrees was recorded. Prior to this time, the coldest August weather ever recorded was on the night of August 24, 1891, just 19 years ago.

DENVER, Aug. 24.—Reports from various towns in northern Colorado tonight show drops in temperature ranging from 40 to 46 degrees today, and in some portions there is serious fear of frost tonight.

At Greeley the temperature fell from 83.8 at noon to 44.6 at 7 o'clock this evening. At Boulder the drop was from 92 degrees at 2 o'clock this evening to 46 degrees at 8 o'clock this evening. Other northern towns report similar startling changes in temperature. All these points also report heavy clouds of smoke from the Montana and Idaho forest fires, 800 miles away.

In Denver the thermometer fell from 93 at 1 o'clock p. m. to 44 at 8:30 o'clock p. m. In the 10 minutes between 4 o'clock and 4:10 o'clock the temperature fell 13 degrees, dropping from 71 to 78.

Trinidad in the southern part of the state, reports a drop of 20 degrees in temperature with a heavy wind storm.

The western slope, the principal fruit-growing region of the state, reports no startling change: the temperature there up to a late hour tonight had not fallen below 67 degrees.

GAYNOR'S WOUND HEALED

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The bullet wound in Mayor Gaynor's neck has healed on the outside and the irritation of the throat caused by granulation on the inside has ceased. The mayor ate heartily today and will go back to his regular diet of three meals a day. He was allowed to take a little exercise in the hospital corridors today.

MADRIZ SAFE IN HONDURAS

MAY SEEK ASYLUM IN COSTA RICA.

ACAJUTLA, Salvador, Aug. 24.—The wife and family of former President Madriz of Nicaragua arrived here today. Dr. Madriz and his lieutenant, who fled from Managua Sunday, still remain at Amapala, Honduras.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Dr. Madriz, the late president of Nicaragua, is on his way to Costa Rica, according to a report from the American consular agent at Amapala, Honduras, received at the state department today.

Madriz, Irias, Ortiz, Vasquez and about 70 other prominent figures of the Madriz faction in Nicaragua arrived at Amapala Monday on the Pacific mail steamer Corinto.

Dr. Madriz, as president of the court of justice of the Central American republics, resided for some time in Costa Rica, and may intend to make his home there.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 24.—General Juan Estrada is on the way to Managua from Chontales and on his arrival here will assume the post of provisional president of the republic.

Acting President Jose Dolores Estrada anticipates a peaceful inauguration of his brother, but is taking the necessary precautions to put down any disorder. The capital tonight is tranquil.

The train bearing the peace commission appointed by Acting President Estrada and also the British Spanish and Italian consuls, while bound for Granada, where the commission expected to meet General Estrada, was fired upon by mistake by provisional sentries.

It now turns out that several soldiers were killed by the populace which fired the volleys at the carriage of the fleeing President Madriz when he was being driven from lake front to board a lake steamer. Dr. Madriz himself was uninjured, but was prevented from boarding the steamer.

Aided by Aurelio Estrada, a brother of Juan and J. S. Estrada, he boarded the train which was waiting to take the party on a journey to Granada and started on his way to Corinto.

C. M. M'NEILL WEDS IN PARIS

SPRINGS MAN MARRIES MRS. M. P. IRWIN.

Couple Are Now in New York. Will Return Soon to This City to Live.

Charles M. MacNeill, who has been spending the last few weeks in Paris, will return to Colorado Springs the latter part of September accompanied by his bride, who, until the wedding was celebrated in the French capital on August 8, was Mrs. Marion P. Irwin of New York.

News of the wedding, which was not altogether unexpected among Mr. MacNeill's intimate friends here, and in the east, reached Colorado Springs yesterday. Both Mr. and Mrs. MacNeill are prominent socially. The former has spent a greater part of his time in Colorado Springs for the last 26 years, and his bride has been here during the last two seasons. The couple are now in New York.

Mr. MacNeill is regarded today as one of the financial factors of the country, his fortune running into many millions. What is regarded as his most successful business venture was the organization two or three years ago of the Utah Copper company, one of the largest of its kind, and of which he is president. He is also largely responsible for the development of the great porphyry and copper deposits of Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, and is president and principal stockholder of the United States Sugar and Land company, operating at Garden City, Kan. He has been active in the development of the Grand Junction Electric and Street Railway companies, in addition to a number of other propositions on the western slope. He is president of the Chino Copper company of New Mexico, and was active in the organization and development of the Ray Consolidated Copper company of Arizona, of which he is vice president.

Coming to Colorado 20 years ago, Mr. MacNeill was first engaged in the ore reduction business near Aspen, but later went to Cripple Creek, where he discovered the chlorination process for the treatment of ores. Shortly after this he became associated with Spencer Penrose and the late Charles L. Tutt, both of this city, in the organization of the Colorado-Philadelphia company, of which the United Metals Reduction and Refining company, operating in Colorado City, is an outgrowth. For a number of years he served as vice president and general manager of this company, retiring some time ago because of press of other business. He is still one of the directors of the United States company, and is a trustee of Colorado College. Mr. MacNeill is a member of the El Paso and Cheyenne Mountain Country clubs of this city, as well as of the prominent social organizations of Denver and New York.

TRAIN HITS WAGON; TWO PERSONS KILLED

DENVER, Aug. 24.—L. W. Wood, 25 years old, a coal teamster, was killed outright and Joseph C. Clifford, a 12-year-old boy, who was riding with Wood, was so badly injured that he died a short time later at the hospital when a Santa Fe passenger train struck Wood's wagon at a street crossing here late this evening.

The wagon and its contents were hurled 50 feet from the track. Both horses were killed.

Young Clifford was the son of Patrolman Thomas C. Clifford, whose murder here 11 years ago by Willington C. Llewellyn created a sensation throughout the state. Wood, who was engaged to marry the boy's sister, frequently took the lad with him on his delivery trips.

Land-Grabbers Plot to Seize Indian School

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Aug. 24.—An attempt in which it was alleged land grabbers aimed to gain possession of the million dollar government Indian school at Chilocco in northern Oklahoma near the Kansas state line today was laid before the congressional committee which is investigating Indian land contracts.

The school district comprises four or five stone buildings and 3,000 acres of land and is open to all Indians children except those of what are known as the five civilized tribes in the state. The land is valued by the officials at $400,000 and the buildings at $600,000. Representations had been made at Washington that it was stated that the buildings were dilapidated, the farm lands of little value and that Indians refused to send their children to the school.

The committee made a thorough inspection of the place. The equipment was said to be in excellent condition and the farm lands among the most productive in the state.

SENATE CAUCUS BILL IS BEATEN

RECEIVES NO REPUBLICAN VOTES.

Initiative Measure Passed by House Will Probably Be Substituted.

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Aug. 24.—Trading time has arrived in the deliberations of the Seventeenth general assembly, and with the arrival of this important epoch the desperate situation of some of the leaders becomes apparent. To hold their power they will have to scramble mightily rallying every force inside and outside of the legislature to make their positions secure. Though the end depends entirely upon the attitude of the senatorial caucus of the Democrats upon the initiative and referendum bill sent to the senate from the house it will concern every measure put before the assembly for its consideration.

Briefly, the house has passed an initiative and referendum bill drawn almost literally from the Oregon law, and this has been referred to the senate's committee on constitutional amendments. Today the senate sent back to the same committee the bill presented by Senator Skinner and amended by the Democratic caucus until it looked like something from another world. That is the house bill, that contains the provisions which supporters of the initiative believe necessary to make a good law for that end, and the senate bill that has been amended until it is declared to be merely an effort to evade giving a real initiative law have been placed in the hands of the same committee which is to make a selection between the two. Reports are that the senate committee will likely recommend the substitution of the house measure for that already agreed upon in the senate and that all but one or two of the Democratic senators will vote for the substitution and try to have the bill pass. Being a bill to amend the constitution of the state it will require for passage the assent of two thirds of the members of the senate. If the Democratic senators who took part in the caucus on this subject stand solidly together the bill will receive surely 19 votes, but it may have 24 and five Republican members will have to vote for it if it is to pass. During the debates of the senate, more than that number of Republicans have at different times expressed their intention if given the chance to vote for the house bill and the question now is whether these were made really in earnest or simply in the effort to confuse and confound the Democrats during debate while the latter were urging a measure declared to be a fraud.

Republicans Noncommittal.

The Republicans have held no caucus and have as far as can be determined agreed upon no concerted action upon the bill. Some of the Republican senators have ambitions for advancement which are to be subject to the approval of the Republican state convention. Friends of the initiative profess to believe that enough Republicans will vote for the bill to pass it

FREEZING WEATHER MARS FRONTIER DAY SPORTS

Thousands Driven From Grounds by Cold Wind. Broncbos Give Exciting Exhibition.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 24.—A bitterly cold wind and temperature below freezing drove thousands from the grounds at the Frontier Day sports here today and caused a postponement of the afternoon's program. The weather however failed to affect the broncbos which have been picked for the rough riding contest especially for their sour tempers. They fully lived up to their reputations and every horse ridden today gave his rider a hard fight.

Steamboat, the most famous outlaw in the country who has been ridden to a finish but once in his career, gave O. Hubbard a hard battle. Hubbard stuck to the saddle but is scarcely expected to ride in the finals.

Lawrence Bennett was knocked down and badly bruised while attempting to saddle Wild Cat. Wild Cat was finally taken back to the corral.

Sam Stonville, a former world's champion, made a sensational ride on Crazy Quilt without a saddle or bridle and Goldie St. Clare the champion rider rode Red Sandy to a finish.

OLD INJURY CAUSES DEATH OF PIONEER

DENVER, Aug. 24.—Blood poisoning, the direct result physicians claim of an injury received over 20 years ago today caused the death of William H. Carter a Denver pioneer. A score of years ago Carter who was well known as a professional foot racer broke his leg in a race. The fracture never knit properly and continued to give him trouble at intervals, culminating in an attack of blood poisoning a short time ago. Carter was 60 years old.

HEN LAYS 8 1-2-OUNCE EGG

DENVER, Aug. 24.—An egg weighing 8½ ounces was what Mrs. A. Scott, a poultry fancier of this city, found in the nest of one of her Plymouth Rock hens today. It is believed to be the record hen's egg and has been placed on exhibition. The ordinary weight of a hen's egg is two ounces.

FIGHT IS FOR DECENCY IN POLITICS

Roosevelt Proposes to Wage War Without Quarter on "Old Guard."

SAYS SUCCESS UNCERTAIN

Organization May Take Revenge at Polls if Beaten in Convention.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Theodore Roosevelt served notice today that he would wage war without quarter on the old guard of the Republican party in New York state. Having been drawn into the fight as he says, against his will he has determined to pursue it to the end, win or lose.

Mr. Roosevelt's intention was indicated more clearly than at any time before by a statement which he issued today. The colonel said he was going into the fight with his eyes open and with full realization of the fact that he might not be successful.

He said he felt that owing to the attitude of members of the organization he was at perfect liberty to carry on uncompromising warfare.

When a statement by William Barnes Jr., the Albany leader to the effect that there would be a fight in the convention against its domination by Mr. Roosevelt, was read to him, Mr. Roosevelt said:

They will have all the fight they want. I am only going to the convention because I feel that the interests of the people demand that the Republican party be given a chance to stand squarely and uncompromisingly for clean, decent, honest politics.

Will Make Clean-Cut Issue.

I go to that convention to make the speech exactly as it had been planned originally and while I hope there will be enough good sense to prevent anyone opposing the principles for which I shall stand, yet if they do oppose them then it is their own affair and so far as I am concerned, the issue shall be absolutely clean cut.

Some of Colonel Roosevelt's friends in the state have told him that they were doubtful as to the outcome and he has replied that he himself felt that even though he should be successful in the convention and such a platform as he desired should be adopted the result of the election would be in grave doubt. The colonel has told his friends that he did not feel sure the Roosevelt-Hughes forces would receive unequalified support from the organization at the polls.

Mr. Roosevelt's indorsement of State Senator Frederick Davenport yesterday was the first step in the fight which he expects to carry on from now until election. He decided today to go to the state fair in Syracuse September 15 to speak and at that time he may talk politics.

Vice President Sherman, who is one of the central figures in the struggle, and whom Colonel Roosevelt opposed by his indorsement of Senator Davenport said emphatically tonight that he would not talk about the situation.

Barnes Welcomes Fight.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Colonel Roosevelt's statement that if the "old guard" desire a fight they will have all the fight they want, found William J. Barnes Jr. of Albany in an aggressive attitude tonight. Mr. Barnes will meet State Chairman Woodruff here tomorrow and go over a plan of campaign by which they hope to win at the coming primaries.

Colonel Roosevelt's statement was shown Mr. Barnes and after reading it cheerfully he said:

The opponents of direct nominations after the contest they have been through will not violate the principles for which they have been fighting at the dictation of anyone and it looks as if they have to have the fight."

County Chairman Griscom indicated to callers late today that there was nothing in the report of a compromise by which Mr. Sherman would be made temporary chairman of the state convention and Mr. Roosevelt permanent chairman. Mr. Griscom's position is that the members of the "old guard" now controlling the party must go.

Smoke, Traveling 800 Miles, Affects Pikes Peak Region

Having come more than 800 miles in an air line at a rate of 40 miles an hour, smoke from the big forest fires in Montana and Idaho settled over the Pikes Peak region and other parts of the state late yesterday afternoon in such quantities as to be sure the sun [illegible] to cause many inquiries from all quarters. Many people believed that a repetition of the recent forest fires in the northwest was about to occur in mountains of this region, while others maintained that prairie fires of vast extent were sweeping down upon the city from the north.

Inquiries were at once made of [illegible] of the towns along the Colorado Midland and on the railroads running north to Denver, but the answer [illegible] was to the effect that the smoke had descended [illegible] the smoke was dense enough to cause trouble to the eyes and [illegible] where it was thick enough to obscure the sun and bring darkness an hour in advance of the usual time.

The tendency of the smoke to hang near the ground was to [illegible] of the rains in the fire regions during the last day or two, causing the smoke to be heavier than usual. Observations made from mountain heights in the path of the smoke but show that the smoke blanket is about 1,000 feet in thickness.

TWENTY-TWO BODIES FOUND AT ONE PLACE

SPOKANE, Aug 24.—A special from Tekoa, Wash., says

A Milwaukee freight train, which left Avery, Idaho, at 11 o'clock this morning and arrived here tonight, brought news that 22 bodies were found this morning in Bitter Root creek, six miles south of Avery Sixteen bodies were lying close together. The other six were in the creek, with their hands covering their faces. A detachment of negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry found the bodies and conveyed them to Avery

Thirty unidentified bodies were buried at Avery today Only four of the large number of persons killed near Avery have been identified, and these four were settlers.

One hundred and six men in the St Joe valley are unaccounted for. The searching parties that bring in bodies found many with their faces in the creek, while others were lying with their arms covering their eyes All unidentified bodies are being buried as soon as they are brought here, the condition of the bodies demanding speedy interment

Elbert Dow of Seattle, who had been in and near Avery since Saturday, says that he passed through the San Francisco earthquake and the horror of his four days in the St Joe valley fire makes his former experience seem trivial.

FATALITIES REPORTED TO FOREST SUPERVISOR

WALLACE, Idaho, Aug 24.—The latest official reports received by Forest Supervisor Weigle placed the list of known dead in his territory at 51, distributed as follows

Big Creek, 13; Bullion, 8; Wallace, 3; Placer Creek, 6; Setser Creek, 20; St. Joe, 1

In addition, the supervisor has received a telegram from a ranger tonight, reporting 15 dead at Big Creek, but this is thought to refer to a disaster already recorded.

The fighters at Bird Creek, for whom fears were entertained, reported safe this evening to the supervisor, and Ranger Rocks' party, on the north fork of the St. Joe river, have lost but one man.

Nothing official has yet been received from Clearwater or the head of the St. Joe, where Weigle has 185 men who became separated from Deputy Supervisor Roscoe Paine Weigle reports two new fires, one on Grizzly creek, a tributary on the north fork of the St. Joe, the other on the north fork, and burning down toward Pritchard. Forces are being sent out tonight to fight these fires.

Employes of Hercules and Hecla mines at Burke have saved the great plants of those properties, and 200 men are still guarding the flames, carrying the town's water supply. Another force of miners from Burke was sent out this evening to stop a fire which crossed the mountain and was burning down toward Gem

SITUATION IN MONTANA AND IDAHO IMPROVED

MISSOULA, Mont, Aug. 24.—District Forester W. B. Greeley, in charge of district No. 1, which includes the reserves in Montana and Idaho in which fires are now raging, said late tonight that the general situation was much improved.

The locality that is causing the greatest uneasiness is in the Coeur d'Alene reserve, where no attempt to fight the flames is being made, all energy being centered in relief work.

From information at hand Mr Greeley is inclined to estimate that the total casualties thus far will not exceed 75.

By tomorrow morning Mr. Greeley hopes to have full information as to the dead and missing. He is being overwhelmed with queries from abroad as to the whereabouts of different individuals engaged in fighting the fires.

The total fatalities in Montana have now reached 11, two names being added tonight. They are E. Williams and A. M. Barrett They were lost in the flames near Thompson, where such a heavy loss of life was reported during the early hours of the fire, and are the only members of the large force of men stationed there who are known to have lost their lives. Both were hired laborers working under the direction of the forest service

Ten other men are still missing from the party which was stationed 37 miles west of Tuscor and a searching party headed by Ranger Kaufman was sent out after them

Prepare to Renew Fight.

The work of reorganization was begun today In all of the affected country with the exception of the Coeur d'Alene forest where the flames are still raging fiercely and where the work of the forestry people is still confined to relief work, camps are being re-established and the men of the service are preparing to renew the fight against the flames

Our first step everywhere has been to locate every man—be he in the forest service or not" said Mr Greeley, "and in most cases, the district around Wallace and the Clearwater country in Idaho being the only exceptions this has already been done

Conditions on the Kaniksu forest in northwestern Idaho were reported considerably improved today The news that Priest river and Newport were saved came as a great relief to the local officials for the flames at the latest reports had been threatening the two towns seriously

All through this forest the crews gained ground today and the fire on the first branch of Clear fork was under control tonight The forest about Blue lake is burning and another bad fire near Laclede, outside the forest, was threatening the government land at the latest report

The situation is bad on upper Priest lake and along Harvey creek whence a call was sent today for 200 men. This force will be sent as soon as possible

State Land Agent J Neill passed through Missoula tonight on his way to Thompson and if the situation there demands will order out the two companies of state troops which Governor Norris has promised

Incendiaries Arrested

A telegram from Kalispell late tonight has the word of a light rainfall in that vicinity which was of great assistance All of the fires in the Gallatin forest are under control Three men have been arrested at Bozeman on a charge of setting fire to the forests They will be prosecuted

A pack train of 20 horses accompanied by a crew of men was sent out today from Ovando into the lower end of the south fork of the Flathead basin, where the fires are very serious

The Lewis and Clark forest has as yet been untouched, but it is feared that fires from the south fork basin will cross the continental divide and enter there

The Bitter Root and Missoula forests are in excellent shape and no further danger from any of the fires there is expected

In conclusion Mr Greeley said

The snow that fell here last night extended from the Absaraka forest near Livingston on the east to St Regis on the west and checked the flames decisively A light fall was also reported further west and in the country around Kalispell, but I am afraid the Coeur d'Alene forest and the woods in eastern Idaho and northwestern Montana received but little, if any"

A telegram to the Missoulian from Trout creek tonight says 11 fire fighters in that vicinity are not accounted for and that 15 families are homeless and destitute.

Word was received from Saltese tonight that Mrs. Charles A Deary of Butte, Mont., Mrs Marie Latone, Mrs. Richard Daxon, Jim McWilliams and William Adams, who were reported lost in the fire, have come down Packer creek and are safe.

The local forestry officials received word today from the Kootenai national forest to the effect that conditions were improved and that the towns of Libby and Troy were safe.

GREAT FALLS Mont., Aug 24—Snowfall at the higher altitudes and rain further down, has put out all fires in the region around Great Falls, Forestry headquarters here today heard from all the fires, and none were burning.

WENDLING DESTROYED; HOLLEY IN DANGER

EUGENE, Ore., Aug 24.—The town of Wendling was entirely destroyed by a forest fire early this evening, including the big Booth-Kelly lumber mills and considerable railroad property. It is feared several lives were lost.

Wendling is at the end of a branch of the Southern Pacific and 17 miles from Eugene Practically all its inhabitants are employes of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company, whose mill, with a capacity of 125,000 feet per day, was destroyed. Early tonight the women and children of 50 families were taken on a special train from Wendling to Mariola, five miles distant, by A P. Dixon, president of the company.

ALBANY, Ore., Aug 24—The village of Holley, Lynn county, faces destruction tonight from a forest fire which is sweeping down the Calapooia valley Telephone messages from here at 7 o'clock stated that unless the wind changes or rain comes, the town will burn before morning.

The fire is now only one and one-half miles away from Holley. The fire fighters can not cope with the flames. Brands and burning limbs are now falling in the town.

Holley is a village with one store, a postoffice, a schoolhouse and a few dwellings

AUBURN, Cal., Aug 24—The forest fire in Tahoe national forest is declared tonight to be under control.

GALE SPREADS FIRES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

VANCOUVER, B C., Aug 24—A gale that has been blowing at the rate of 30 miles an hour all day has fanned a multitude of brush and incipient timber fires between here and Stevenson into a fury

The damage to sawmill property alone is over $100,000, while the loss to standing timber cannot be estimated at present It may run over $500,000, and perhaps double that sum.

Tonight it is about four miles away from Camas, and the wind is driving the flames down the canon toward that place.

A report from Stevenson is that a fire is raging in the standing timber back of Cape Horn and is driving with great rapidity to the west On the Little Washougal, a settlement known as Sunnyside has been in danger all day This fire has burned over Mill plain but, while the houses escaped uninjured, the crops were nearly all consumed

SENATE

But the members themselves do not make any admissions They are waiting until it becomes necessary for them to choose how they shall vote and that is several days away Opponents of the initiative are firm in the belief that whatever bill shall be reported back by the constitutional amendment committee will fail of securing the needed two-thirds

As usual when the senate this morning began its attempts to transact business all efforts to advance were thrown into hopeless tangle by the objections of the Republican members The first business of importance was the placing on third reading of the senate's initiative bill At once Republican members filed a protest charging that the measure had not got properly through second reading that many amendments that were material had been made by the senate committee on constitution and revision placing the bill in a position of direct violation of the constitution of procedure and of the laws of the state In support of this the record was quoted showing that many amendments had been proposed by Republican senators while the bill came out of committee of the whole and that these amendments were voted down by the Democratic members and that the rejected amendments were exactly those later proposed by the committee on constitution and revision Going further into the matter it was shown that in committee of the whole while unsuccessful motions do not become part of the record the proposed amendments were all offered there by the Republican senators.

DeLong Taunts Democrats.

In supporting this protest Senator DeLong in a long address made every effort to anger the Democratic senators into retort He excoriated them in every possible way and as he went on and no response came taunted them and dared them But they all sat impassively in their seats taking their medicine laughing uncomfortably at times and perhaps injecting a retort or a remark. They could not be drawn into any dispute or discussion. They did courteously listen to the address, waiting for its completion to vote as they had agreed upon.

Senator Stephen took occasion, during a lull, to reply to a speech made in the house a few days ago by Representative Bellesfield of Pueblo In that speech Mr Bellesfield said that Senator Stephen as chairman of the committee on constitutional amendments in the Sixteenth general assembly, had recommended for indefinite postponement a bill providing for an amendment to the constitution to provide for the initiative and referendum, adding that the position of the El Paso senator did not appear to be consistently for any such measure, as, when opportunity was offered, he acted against it Senator Stephen said that in the Sixteenth 18 amendments were proposed to state constitution and that the instrument itself provides that only six may be voted upon at one election. Members of the two houses selected the six to be passed, and the others were, at the close of the session, when committees are compelled to report back and kill all rejected or left over measures, recommended for indefinite postponement.

"There was then no call for the initiative," said Senator Stephen, "and I confess I did not know anything about it. The gentleman himself might have called for it, if he wished but I find nothing to show that he did. Now, as a general thing, I pay no attention to the whelps that bark at my heels, but the attack was made on me openly at a place where I could not reply. I consider a man who makes an attack at such a time a coward."

Then he added: "I understand the gentleman himself, now a member of the assembly, has accepted another position under the state government, in which he draws $100 a month, and by holding which he keeps some deserving man out of a job. That is the sort of a man who criticises me."

After these and some other ebullitions of eloquence and temper, a motion was presented rereferring the bill to the senate committee on constitutional amendments, where the bill passed by the house had already preceded it.

House Discusses Primary Bill.

Proceedings in the house today were confined to the discussion of the primary bill from yesterday, the house reaching an agreement on two sections, one relating to campaign exepnditures and the other to the manner of making nominations.

The following limits were set in the matter of campaign expenses: For United States senator, $2 500, for Congress $500, for state office, $500; for district judge, $350; for county office, $300; for district attorney, $250; for state senate, $150; for state house of representatives, $75.

Railroad Bill in Caucus.

The Democratic senatorial caucus this evening took up the railroad measure as reported to it by the subcommittee of the caucus to which it had been referred, and agreed on the clauses eliminating the exemption granted to railroads less than 20 miles in length and making the proceedings of the railroad company subject to review by the district courts. The action in both these instances was with an eye to insuring the constitutionality of the measure. The exemption clause was made the ground for declaring the first law unconstitutional, while the conferring of judicial powers on the commision was regarded as liable to endanger the present measure in a similar manner. The caucus will continue its consideration of the bill tomorrow.

It is understood that the antipass feature is not included in the bill as reported by the subcommittee and that there is little probability of its being found in the measure when it emerges from caucus.

EAGLES AWAIT RESULT OF TRIAL

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—The grand aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at a secret session today refused to permit a delay of the report of the trial committee which last night investigated charges that four former officers diverted $12,000 from the funds of the order. The grand aerie ordered the report made at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A resolution was adopted providing that no business shall be transacted until after the charges against the former officers have been either sustained or overruled.

The trial committee remained in session until 2 o'clock this morning and many witnesses were examined The charges grow out of the alleged sale of paraphernalia to the local aeries upon which the grand officers are said to have profited

It is said B. F. Monaghan of Philadelphia, former grand worthy president, and Edward Krause of Wilmington, Del., two of the accused members, made speeches in their own behalf at the trial, which was held behind closed doors. Monaghan contended the grand aerie had no legal right to conduct the trial, but he was overruled. Martin Gray of New Haven, Conn., and Thomas C Hayes of Newark, N. J., the other two accused members, were not present.

TAFT'S CAMPAIGN LETTER TO BE PUBLISHED SEPT. 5

BEVERLY, Aug. 24.—Representative H C. Loudenslager of New Jersey, secretary of the Republican congressional committee, spent most of the day in Beverly and had a long talk with the President.

Mr. Loudenslager announced that it had been decided to make the president's campaign letter public in New York, September 5. Mr. Loudenslager declined to discuss the contents of the letter.

Mr Taft is going to pay Secretary MacVeagh a week-end visit at the latter's summer home in Dublin, N. H. Mr Taft's visit to Dublin will effectually set at rest the stories that have been circulated from time to time of a coolness between himself and Mr MacVeagh. These stories have gone so far at times as to intimate that Mr. MacVeagh might retire from the cabinet. They are said to be absolutely without foundation.

GERMAN PRESS BEHIND TIMES

NEWSPAPERS INSPIRED BY GOVERNMENT.

Hope of Democracy Lies in Efforts to Develop Independent Press.

XXI. NEWSPAPERS AND PUBLIC OPINION.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

BERLIN, Aug. 13, 1910. German newspapers more frankly and directly attempt to influence public opinion than do the newspapers of America or Great Britain. But as the German press is not free, and as it is used for the dissemination of inspired political intelligence, both by the government and by other interests, the result is that the German newspapers fail to wield any considerable power in public affairs. In the fact that it is the purpose of the average German editor to mould opinion rather than to reflect it, one finds the explanation of another fact—that there is neither a press nor a public opinion in Germany in the sense that those words are used by Americans. The newspapers do not give the people facts upon which to base their own opinions, and they are not able to impress upon the public the views which they disseminate. The strongest bulwark of the German aristocracy is the lack in Germany of a free, intelligent and enterprising press. The greatest hope of the democracy lies in the efforts now being made to develop newspapers modelled on Anglo-Saxon lines but yet adapted to German tastes.

With two or three notable and brilliant exceptions the German newspapers are not what Americans would consider newspapers at all. They would fall rather in the classification of publicity campaign circulars. The average German daily even in the larger cities makes its chief feature long discoursive editorials. It prints such news as may be contained in official bulletins emanating from local government offices, such ... as there may be room for when all the editorials are in, but never by any chance does it endeavor to reflect the opinion of the community, nor to explain by "writing up" any news item it may publish.

Government Uses Press

German newspapers may be divided roughly into three classes the semiofficial, directly inspired by the government; the quasi-independent papers which pretend to be uninspired but which are guided altogether by hints from government officials; and the independent press, each paper of which usually is the particular organ of some special political faction or business interest. In no other country in the world, with the possible exception of Japan, does the government make such widespread use of the press in courting public favor and in propitiating popular anger.

The Prussian government learned how to use the newspapers from Napoleon. The little corporal was the greatest press agent the world has known since Julius Caesar, if two living men be excepted. When he occupied Berlin he used the local papers to belittle his opponents and to aggrandise himself. The Prussian resentment of the Napoleonic invasion resulted in making Prussia an empire, but the Napoleonic influence left its impress on the Prussian government. It adopted the Corsican's press agent methods and from 1807 until Bismarck came into power the Prussian newspapers were largely under the control of the government. But their influence was practically nil, and when Bismarck took hold of Prussian affairs it became necessary for him to remold the Prussian newspaper system.

This he began in a systematic manner, using the columns of every paper he could command, which was all of them, for the dissemination of his views on domestic matters. After the war with France and the formation of the empire, Bismarck concentrated his efforts to control editorial expressions on subjects dealing with foreign affairs. His activities in this direction were not confined solely to Germany, but he sent correspondents to Paris, London, St. Petersburg and all the principal European cities charged with the duty of influencing press comments on German affairs in a fashion favorable to Bismarck's designs. This foreign press bureau still exists as the department of the German foreign office.

Inspired Organ Discredited.

Bismarck's personal organ was the North German Gazette, which pretended to be an independent journal, but which as Bismarck himself said "presented me daily with a white sheet of paper" upon which the chancellor might write what he pleased. That paper still remains the chief among the inspired semiofficial journals of the empire, although its character is now so well known that it is quite thoroughly discredited. Sometimes even this paper is snubbed by the government. It will print one day an editorial sent to it from the government, and if the public does not like it, it will the next day print a denial saying that the article in question was in error, that it originated in the newspaper office itself and was not semiofficial in character.

There is in every small city and town a newspaper called the "Kreisblatt," which is a local paper conducted in the interests of the prominent bureaucratic officials of the neighborhood. It is presumed to be independent, and therefore is of such high character that the government officials may use it safely as a medium for their advertisements and special notices. As a matter of fact, it is controlled absolutely by the officials. One editor of one of these papers described his troubles in an article printed in one of the daily independent large city dailies. He said that the local inspector came to him and told him that he must attack the socialists more vigorously, or someone else would be hired in his stead. The editor could not obey the local inspector because every editorial in his paper came to him already written from the imperial press bureau at Berlin, and if the editor had changed a single word in his own editorials he would have felt the heavy hand of the "man higher up." This same editor once reprinted in his local paper an article taken from a city journal. For that offense he was threatened with dismissal. The local inspector did not know that the emperor had inspired the article. This was the condition of affairs in 1903. In the last six or seven years conditions have been materially improved, and there is a genuine independent press developing in many parts of the country.

Journalists Not Respected

Journalism is not respected by the public, and is despised by the bureaucracy which abuses its privilege. A journalist in Germany has no social status whatever. A distinguished American who visited Berlin a few years ago was invited to come to meet the kaiser. The invitation was sent by the emperor himself through the court marshal. That mighty functionary requested the American to write down his name, his address and his profession on a blank police form which every visitor to Germany, high or low, must fill out. The American wrote himself down as a journalist. The court marshal took the slip, looked at it and said: "I am sorry you put 'journalist.' Would you mind writing something else?" The astonished American asked: "why? I am a journalist." "Oh," said the court marshal, "journalists are not received at court." The American remembered that he had taught a country school 20 years before, so he wrote "school master" in the place of "journalist," and was thereby qualified to receive honorable invitation from the kaiser.

It is but fair to say that the kaiser himself does not share this prejudice against newspaper men, or at least he confined it to the journalists of his own country, for he has said publicly that the editor of a private newspapers are the equals of generals in command of armies. As a general in command of an army is the highest position possible of human attainment in the kaiser's mind, this was praise indeed.

Independent Press Movement.

Although the government continues to inspire editorials in the semiofficial papers, although the foreign office still maintains a press bureau, and although the imperial government controls absolutely the only possible press news agency in Germany, the German press in the past few years has been fighting to free itself from the shackles of bureaucratic domination.

The influence of the independent press in calling attention to the scandals in the administration of the colonial office had a marked effect upon the last general elections for the reichstag. But more than any other one thing, the bold defiance of the government by Maximilian Harden, the fearless Berlin editor, has contributed toward the success of the independent press movement. Harden invaded the sacred precincts of the imperial castle and laid bare the unspeakable scandals of the Camarilla which surrounded the person of the emperor. The revelations made at his trial shocked the whole world, but assured the success of his crusade.

But there are as yet few intrepid souls such as Harden. The curse of officialdom is still heavy upon the land, and no newspaper dares to be truly independent. As it is, every newspaper has to employ what is called a "sitting editor," an editor who does no work, but who is willing in case of trouble to admit that he is the editor of the paper and therefore to go to jail. No newspaper staff is complete without its professional jailbird editor. There is an increasing popular demand for the freedom of the press, but as the people never have known what a real free press is, they are not shouting themselves hoarse over the question. The German press is a century behind that of England or America.

CITY COUNCIL PASSES RESOLUTION.

Bids on Supplies for Water Extension Opened No Contracts Awarded.

The City Council yesterday adopted a resolution whereby two engineering experts will be called into consultation with City Engineer Waggener before any definite action is taken with regard to paving and parking in the business section, widening sidewalks and putting in sanitary sewers, in accordance with the new public improvement ordinance. The selection of the experts is still open, but it is practically assured that the city engineers of Denver and Oklahoma City, respectively, will be secured.

At yesterday's meeting bids were opened for supplies needed for proposed water extensions. It is the intention to run mains to a number of new addition, among them the Park Lawn, Hastings-Allen, Cheyenne and Colorado Springs company tracts. Specifications call for 10,400 feet of 4-inch pipe, 5,000 feet of 6-inch pipe and 925 feet of 10-inch mains, together with the work of laying them. The Barnes-Stephens company bid was $11,152; St. John Plumbing and Heating company, $12,265, and the N. W. Hoag company, $12,206. All bids were referred to the Mayor, city engineer and water superintendent.

W. K. Argo in behalf of the building committee of the First Presbyterian church, was given permission to place a shingle roof on a stone addition of the church. A city ordinance prohibits wooden roofing within the fire limits.

Commissioner Whitaker was authorized to pay $96.50 for repairs to the police motorcycle, which was wrecked in collision with a truck belonging to Wandell & Lowe.

W. F. Long protested against changing the grade of the sidewalk in the 600 block on East Cache la Poudre street, and the matter was referred to Commissioner Lawton.

James Dean was given a permit to act as a special policeman without pay. He is employed as a special watchman in the north ... part of the city.

Britain Consents to Annexation of Korea by Japan

LONDON, Aug. 24.—In a communique issued tonight the foreign office announces that the British government has no objection on political grounds to the annexation of Korea by Japan

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—The text of the convention under which Korea is annexed to Japan was communicated at 1 o'clock this morning to the representatives of the powers. The document, which according to well established facts was signed August 22, will be effective when officially promulgated. This will be, according to some of the ministers, August 29 or August 30, when the independent existence of the hermit kingdom, the struggle for whose control started the Russo-Japanese war, will cease.

Sporadic outbreaks in protest against the absorption of Korea by Japan are anticipated, but serious rioting or even widespread objection from the Koreans to the annexation are not expected

REVENUE INSPECTORS ARREST OIL DEALER

DENVER, Aug. 24.—United States internal revenue inspectors claim to have broken up a widespread swindle, whereby oleomargarine has been sold in many states as fine creamery butter, in the arrest of John J. Daly here today.

Daly, who operated under the titles of the Kansas Brokerage company, the South Platte Commission company, and H. R. Rand, is alleged to have dealt extensively in oleomargarine, which he is believed to have secured from illicit manufacturers in this city and sold as "pure creamery butter."

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

FIRE SWEEPS SEVERAL BLOCKS IN DEER LODGE

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 24.—A fire which did damage estimated at $60,000, and which, it was believed at noon, would take the entire town of Deer Lodge, in Powell county, 44 miles west of Butte, was brought under control this afternoon. Both the Butte and Anaconda fire departments sent men and apparatus to the scene. The explosion of a gasoline stove in a cleaning shop started the blaze, which leaped swiftly from building to building, until several blocks were afire.

Making Good Makes Friends

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than four decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.
A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that came into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, pasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over four decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

SPRINGS TO DO ITSELF PROUD AT CONVENTION

Citizens of every shade of political opinion unanimously believe that Colorado Springs must put her best foot forward when the big Republican state convention meets here on September 20. Everybody realizes that this is the best chance the city has had for many years to play the welcoming host, and at the same time secure an abiding reputation as an ideal town for conventions and tourists generally.

Although the gathering is a party one, reports from the various committees in charge of the arrangements are that everyone, regardless of party affiliation, is taking hold of his individual share in the work of preparation, with vigor and earnestness. In particular is that noticeable among the merchants, all of whom have so far expressed their willingness to decorate their places of business during the days that the delegates and visitors will be here.

As has been mentioned, the matter of decoration will be taken care of by a number of experts who will come to the city at the invitation of the committee in charge, and they are expected to arrive here within a few days.

Experts who have had charge of the decorative lighting schemes in several cities will also be brought here, and with representatives of the Colorado Springs Light, Heat and Power company, will go over the town to see what can be done toward making the city a blaze of light.

The entire state will be flooded with letters to the various political leaders, so that the matter may be brought to the attention of the delegates before they leave home. In this way, it is believed that a number of visitors will attend the sessions of the convention who would not otherwise be present. There will be plenty of room for all at that time of the year, and by coming a day or two earlier, the delegates and their families can enjoy themselves taking in the sights of the region. The word has gone out that this city is going to outdo itself in the way of entertainment when the convention meets, so it is now the duty of the citizens and townsfolk generally to make the occasion a big success.

PLAN TO WELCOME FORMER PRESIDENT

Since the official itinerary of Roosevelt's tour through the west has been given out, it appears that four hours are allowed for the journey from Denver to Pueblo on August 30, and many business men of this city are discussing the advisability of a reception for the former President, even if he stays here for only half an hour.

In this connection, there is also some talk of forming a boosters club for that occasion, so that everyone can join in extending a welcome to the colonel. Nothing definite has been done, however.

COLORADO GAS MEN TO MEET IN CITY TODAY

Tomorrow the meeting of the Colorado section of the National Commercial Gas association will begin in this city at the Acacia hotel. The address of welcome to the 150 or more delegates and visitors will be made by George B. Tripp of the Colorado Springs Light, Heat and Power company, after which a number of papers, mainly on technical subjects, will be read. On the second day of the convention, however, there will be several speeches having to do with the relation between the general public and the utility corporations.

Various "stunts" have been arranged for each day to keep the visitors well entertained, among them being a ball tomorrow night at the Mansions hotel at Manitou, which will be preceded by a dinner.

One of the most pleasant features is the unanimity with which the delegates are preparing to boost this state for the next meeting of the National Commercial Gas Men's association. As it looks now, the efforts of state members of the national body to secure the 1911 convention for Denver, will be successful.

Damage Suit May Follow Acquittal

Christian Schneck, charged with killing a $500 Irish terrier belonging to Eldredge Clark, was found not guilty by a jury in Justice Dunnington's court last evening. Civil action, it is understood, will be instituted against Schneck within the next day or two.

The killing of Tim Murphy, one of the best-known prize-winning Irish terriers in the United States, by Schneck in his automobile early Sunday evening, sent deputy sheriffs, detectives and police officers on the trail of what was regarded for half the night as a murder. The affair happened on the outskirts of Broadmoor, and the hunt was kept up until long after midnight.

In the trial of the case yesterday, no attempt was made by the defendants' attorneys or by Schneck himself to deny that he ran over the dog and killed it, the chief point of the defense being that the killing was not done maliciously or carelessly.

Schneck said that the dog, running alongside the Clarke car, turned suddenly as he was passing and that he could not avoid striking it. He admitted that after he had struck the dog he did not stop to investigate.

"I thought we had better go on," said Schneck; "and talk to them after they had cooled off. My experience is not to argue with a man when he is excited."

"You, the dog and me are all in the same position," said Deputy District Attorney Burns in summing up before the jury; "I am not appearing for either man in this case, but I am appearing for the dog. I am here to represent the dog, the Irish terrier, Tim Murphy. The animals have a right to protection, and in this action I am here for the people who saw fit to pass laws to protect the lives of dumb brutes whether they are of high or low degree."

Tim Murphy had been the prize-winning Irish terrier in all of the important bench shows recently, and Mr. Clarke had just completed a schedule calling for his appearance in all of the big exhibitions for the next three years.

WORK AT TUNNEL MATTER OF ONLY A DAY OR TWO

Reports from the El Paso mine last night were that the work of removing the steel plug from the bottom of the hole being bored to connect with the crosscut of the deep drainage tunnel has so far progressed that a day or two of additional work ought to see the obstruction out of the way. A. L. Burris, president of the El Paso Consolidated Gold Mining company, and A. E. Carlton, contractor in charge of the work on the tunnel, were both in the gold camp yesterday looking over the work at the mine.

Both men believe that the work of drilling the 250 feet from the bottom of the El Paso shaft to connect with the crosscut from the big tunnel itself, will be finished soon after September 1, the time originally set.

It is possible that some of the delegates will go to Boulder in automobiles although that has not yet been decided on. Most of those who are leaving today will remain until the close of the convention on Saturday night.

Today will be largely taken up with the registration of delegates and the reception of visitors from the different parts of the state. BORAH WILL GIVE AN ANSWER SEPT. 7

C. C. Hamlin of this city has received word from Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, who has been invited to speak at the big Stratton park ratification meeting following the Republican state convention, that he can not say definitely whether he can be present until after September 7. He said that he hopes to make arrangements, however, after that time, which will enable him to attend. After consultation with State Chairman Hubert Work, it was decided to tell Senator Borah that the state committee will wait until after that date before taking steps to secure another speaker.

What the Press Agents Say

"THE MAN WHO DOES THINGS" TO-DAY

Colorado Springs is becoming one of the best matinee towns in the country. At least it has proven so this summer as far as the Opera House is concerned. The Opera House is packed to the doors from gallery to orchestra at every performance, and hundreds of people are constantly being turned away because of lack of seats. In order to accommodate the crowds, extra matinees are being added each week. This week the extra matinee will be given this afternoon, when "The Man Who Does Things," that strong, interesting modern drama, will be presented. Next week there will be two extra matinees, making four in all. These matinees will be Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, when "Graustark" will be presented; Thursday afternoon, when "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be produced, and Saturday afternoon, when "St Elmo" will be given, the last matinee performance in this city.

"The Man Who Does Things" was first played in this city June 10, when Theodore Lorch opened his summer season at the Opera House It was a particularly fitting opening bill, as Mr Lorch has since proven that he is one of the men who do things, inasmuch as he has given local playgoers the best summer season of popular-priced stock this city has had in many a year. "The Man Who Does Things" will also be played tonight.

"The Man Who Does Things" is a modern drama, telling of a young, ambitious builder of bridges who wants to marry the daughter of his employer. She is above him socially, so he commences a bridge to span the gap which lays between them. He succeeds in building his bridge, but when he crosses upon it he finds that the girl he left behind him is far more desirable than the one he has spent so much labor and thought upon to win.

Mr. Lorch's own play, "Forty-five Miles From Nowhere," a comedy of ranch life, will be given its first production in this city at the Opera House tomorrow evening. It will be repeated for the last times Saturday matinee and night. As this play is short, several specialties will be introduced into the action of the comedy. This marks the first series of specialties given here by the Lorch company

WIZARDS WITH THE BANJO AT MAJESTIC

One of the best musical acts the Majestic has had in a long time is that of the Holdworths a man and a woman, who are veritable wizards with the banjo. Not only do they play it in the ordinary, old-fashioned way, but they wean music out of the instrument while swinging it in the air, tossing it back and forth and doing all sorts of instrumental acrobatics. The man in the case plays a rapid-fire air while doing a most difficult clog dance, and he never misses a note.

They can sing, too, their work in this line being particularly enjoyable in that their songs are at once clear, catchy and full of humor. Both are of neat appearance and their jolly manner helps make them popular, which they certainly are.

The bill this week also includes "A Session at School," that uproarious farce in which Sam J. Curtis stars; the Dunbars, in a musical and comedy skit; Phasma, the pyrotechnic dancer; the Majestiscope, showing two motion picture films, and the Majestic concert orchestra program. All for 10, 20 and 30 cents. Performances, 3:00, 7:30 and 9:10 p. m.

THE GLORY OF JOHN KNOX

"The Story of John Knox and Mary Queen of Scots" will be presented the nights of Thursday and Friday evenings, September 1 and 2, at the Temple theater, under the auspices of the Ladies' Union of the First Christian church. Mr Wesley Hummon, who delivers the lecture, interspersing the dramatic performance, has traveled extensively in Scotland and France, both associated intimately with the fascinating story of Mary Stuart. His thorough preparation for this entertainment, and the beautiful stereopticon views used, will insure a most profitable two hours at the Temple theater The costumes worn by the 150 taking part are interesting, unique and historically correct. Miss S. Ethel Brown has been training a large number each night at the church, both for the scenes and the marches a very beautiful part of the whole. It would be difficult to find one better prepared to train for these special drills than Miss Brown. The cast of those taking part in the Puritan, Glasgow university and court scenes include some of the best known of the local talent.

In brief, the program is as follows:

1. Allegorical Processional. The Rallying of the Clans. Led by the Scotch bagpipes.
2. Story of Mary's Life, told by Mr Hummon, with the aid of the stereopticon.
3. Scene of the Students from Glasgow University and the Puritans Going to Leith to Meet Queen Mary.
4. Story of John Knox and Mary Stuart
5. The Court Scene. Interview Between John Knox and Mary Stuart
6. Story continued, showing the cathedrals, et cetera
7. Mary on the Way to Execution
8. Concluding the story, describing the last hours of the queen's life.
9. Church Processional. All participating, and the Song of Puritan Triumph—Ps. 124 God's Miraculous Deliverance

A SWELL CANADIAN INDIAN STORY AT THE LYRIC

The Perversity of Fate -The Kalem company producers of late have shown a decided leaning toward Canadian themes and the success of their earlier productions has brought forth one feature very pretentious The Perversity of Fate The story of 'The Perversity of Fate starts in the United States A young girl who is the secretary of a wealthy manufacturer is burdened with the care of an invalid mother The lover a young engineer with his career yet to be made decides to go to Canada and work out his fortune in the wilderness Before he has been away for a few months the doctors decide that the girl's mother must be taken to a warmer climate in order to save her life The girl is unable to take care of this extra expense out of her meager earnings and in her distress turns to her employer The employer offers to marry the girl and take care of herself and her mother His offer is accepted.

Several years pass by and the lover who has gone to Canada has learned of the marriage of his sweetheart and in his bitterness takes up with a young Indian squaw, whom he marries.

There comes a day, however, when the wealthy manufacturer dies, leaving the young widow in a position where she believes herself free to claim her first love. She goes to Canada, finds him in the wilderness with his Indian wife and, although she uses every inducement and wile, he is too much of a man to desert his Indian wife and the young widow is forced to turn back heart sore and broken over "The Perversity of Fate," which has come between her and her love.

The scenic embellishments of this production are particularly beautiful and the Canadian scenes full of primitive splendor.

MADAME NATURE'S ART GALLERY

A good many years ago, before you or I or any of us began to think of Colorado as the playground and showplace of America, the tribes of Ute Indians who wandered where the village of Manitou now stands, were attracted to an orifice in the cliffs near the foot of Pikes Peak, from which, at intervals there issued strange sounds. Being at a loss to account for it, the Utes enshrouded it in mystery, and wove their weird legends concealing it. Later the white men came, and unburdened with aboriginal superstitions, they discovered another entrance, entered, investigated, and found that the song of the cave was caused by the wind, which whistled through it's peculiar formations. It was then that the "Cave of the Winds" began to attract international attention. Soon geologists and men of science, who visited it and explored its recesses with torches, discovered that, in variety and beauty of formations, the cave was unique in the history of geology. Its entire 16 rooms were an ever-changing panorama of Nature's sculpture in varied materials.

As the years have passed, the cave has grown in reputation, until tens of thousands visit it yearly. Without in any way marring its natural wonders, it has been rendered as easily accessible as a house, and brilliant electric searchlights reach every nook and crevice bringing into strong relief each glittering crystal formation. The cave is easily reached by carriages up beautiful Williams Canon, and it is open to visitors both day and night.

BIG SHAKE UP IS LOOKED FOR IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES NEXT SEASON

When spring practice starts next season, after the moguls of the big leagues have battled through their annual winter meetings, the baseball world probably will hear of several new managers leading National and American league clubs. Although it is almost too early for the "dopesters" to begin discussing baseball politics for 1911, several widely known managers are due to fall at the end of the present season. Rumors already are floating around the country about several baseball leaders losing their jobs. Managers, who have been piloting winners this year, are heroes, but how about the unfortunate baseball teachers like "Jack" O'Connor, Fred Lake, "Bill" Dahlen and Hughey Duffy? This quartet was given a chance to make good this spring, but so far has failed in an attempt to bring forth a winner.

Charles Comiskey, known as the "Old Roman of Baseball," hasn't had a real manager to tip off the signals since that great leader, Fielder Jones, retired from the game. "Billy" Sullivan was given a chance last year, but failed. When Hughey Duffy, who managed the Providence club of the Eastern league last year, signed a White Sox contract this spring there hardly was a south side "bug" who did not believe he would give Chicago a winner. Although Duffy has had enough experience to put Comiskey's club back in the first division, where it always has finished in years past, the former great outfielder of Boston has failed. It is true, Comiskey signed an entirely new team at the beginning of the season, and that may be the reason why Duffy hasn't met with success. Probably Owner Comiskey will give Duffy another chance next season, but he will have to show a great improvement if he expects to stick around the Windy city.

"King Jack" O'Connor, the veteran catcher, is another manager who has failed to give his countrymen a real baseball machine. "King Jack" was a favorite among the St. Louis Browns followers when he was taking his regular turn behind the bat, but is this same "old man" as popular now as he was several years ago? "Bob" Hedges, owner of the American League club in St. Louis, probably has found out that Jack O'Connor will not make as good a leader as Jimmy McAleer, the former boss of the Browns. McAleer was given his walking papers at the end of last season. Washington signed McAleer, while St. Louis grabbed O'Connor. Last season O'Connor managed the Little Rock club of the Southern league and made a good showing.

Fred Lake, manager of the Boston Nationals, and "Bill" Dahlen, leader of the Brooklyn club of the same league, are having a hard season with their teams. Dahlen, who was a member of the Boston club last year, is on his first campaign as a baseball manager. President Ebbetts of Brooklyn always has been unlucky in picking a boss for his players. Harry Lumley, manager of the "Trolley Dodgers" last season, and Patsy Donovan, the leader of the 1908 club, fell down in an effort to put a winner in Brooklyn. Fred Lake made a fair showing at the head of the Boston Americans in 1909, but he is losing his reputation with the pennant winning aggregation of the National league several years ago. Lake would have retained his old job with the Red Sox this spring, but John I. Taylor refused to meet his terms.

Sullivan Catches Ball Thrown From Washington Monument

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Catcher "Billy" Sullivan of the Chicago Americans, today repeated the feat of Catcher Charles Street of the Washington American league team, of last year in catching a baseball thrown from a window at the top of the Washington monument, a perpendicular drop of 542 feet.

The ball was tossed from the top of the monument by Pitcher Ed Walsh of the Chicago team. It was only after 23 attempts that Sullivan caught the ball, although he succeeded several times in so gauging the sphere as to get it in his mitt. The speed of the ball was so terrific, however, that he was unable to hold it. It is estimated that the ball was traveling at the rate of 161 feet a second when caught.

Several members of the Chicago team, including Collins and Doc White, Trainer Quirk of the Washington team, and a few government officials witnessed the feat. While it has been attempted many times, only Street heretofore was able to accomplish it. His feat was performed during the summer of 1908, on the thirteenth attempt.

Sullivan subsequently caught two more balls thrown from the monument window.

Rules Denver Man Off Turf

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 24.—The Kentucky State Racing commission today refused the applications of H. G. Bedwell of Denver and John Markiein of Cincinnati for reinstatement on the turf.

Both men appeared before the commission with attorneys, Bedwell offering an affidavit from a negro stable hand, who swore he had drugged the horse Nadzu without Bedwell's knowledge, and that the owner was not responsible for the condition of the animal when it appeared crazed in the Latonia paddock.

Bedwell asked the commission that he be allowed to sell his horses in good standing, even if he were not permitted to race them again, but the commission was unchangeable. Bedwell asserted that his horses are worth $75,000, but are practically valueless unless they can be raced.

Markiein's case resulted from the inconsistent running of one of his horses at the local meeting.

HARVESTER AT YONKERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The Harvester, holder of the world's trotting stallion record of 2:02 made last week at Buffalo, driven by E. F. Geers, won the first heat of the free-for-all in 2:08¼ at the Yonkers Grand Circuit meet today, and later, when called upon to break his own record, he took the heat and race in 2:03, despite a retarding wind. Under the conditions, that was a remarkable performance.

HEDGEWOOD BOY WILL RACE AGAIN TODAY

GALESBURG, Ill., Aug. 24.—Interest in the great race yesterday, in which Hedgewood Boy nosed out his rival, Minor Heir, is so intense that another important race has been arranged between this great stallion for tomorrow. Today's feature was Ross K's mile in 2:01¾.

HILDRETH HORSE WINS ADIRONDACK HANDICAP

SARATOGA, Aug. 24.—S. C. (Lucky) Hildreth today added another stake to his long list, when his Zeus easily won the $5,000 Adirondack handicap, six furlongs, and in doing so, equaled the track record for the distance. Zeus closed at 12 to 1.

AUNT POLLY 60 TO 1 WINS

EXPECTS INSURGENTS TO SWEEP WASHINGTON

Murdock Stumping for Poindexter. Says Congressional Committee Should Be Reorganized.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 24.—Congressman Victor Murdock, the insurgent leader of Wichita, Kan., appeared before an audience here tonight in behalf of Congressman Miles Poindexter's candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination to succeed Senator Samuel H. Piles. Mr. Murdock predicted that the insurgents will sweep this state and also carry many Republican strongholds in the middle west.

"I believe the Republican national congressional committee should be reorganized at once," said Mr. Murdock. "Congressman William B. McKinley of Illinois was made chairman of that committee by the Cannon machine and the Cannon machine no longer represents the Republican sentiment anywhere in the United States."

In an interview Mr. Murdock said he is not a candidate for the speakership of the House of Representatives. "I do not seek the office myself but I will support the candidate for speaker who, like myself, believes the committees should be elected by the House and not appointed by its presiding officer," he said.

GARFIELD STARTS ON WESTERN TOUR

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 24.—James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior under Roosevelt, left tonight for a speaking tour of the west, during which he will ally himself with the Roosevelt and Pinchot faction in the discussion of the progressive Republicanism and conservation of the national resources.

Mr. Garfield will speak tomorrow in Sycamore, Ill. Saturday he will join the Roosevelt party at Cheyenne, Wyo.

On the evening of August 29, he will speak before the Round Table club of Denver on conservation, his address being a reply to the declaration of Secretary Ballinger that the Roosevelt conservation policy is obstructive.

At Osawatomie, Kan., on August 31, from the same platform on which Colonel Roosevelt and Pinchot will speak, he will talk on "The Influence of Corporations in Politics." He will continue with Roosevelt until he delivers an address before the conservation congress in St. Paul, September 6. Mr. Garfield expects to enter the fall campaign in many states, notably Indiana, where he will champion the cause of Senator Beveridge.

Jeff Sidesteps Witness Stand

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Jim Jeffries went hunting in the mountains today just in time to avoid a subpoena for him to appear as a witness in court tomorrow and testify whether he and Jack Johnson had a prize fight in Reno, July 4.

This is the important question in the case of the picture men, who were arrested in Arcadia last week for displaying the reproduction of the contest before an audience there. They were charged with conspiracy against public morals, and will be placed on trial in Pasadena tomorrow.

DRIVERS TUNE UP FOR ELGIN RACES

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—A great crowd saw the fast practice over the Elgin automobile course today. Ray Harroun lowered the practice record by making a lap, slightly over 8½ miles, in 7:12.

The races will be run on Friday and Saturday with what is calculated to be the most exciting events. The list of drivers is a distinguished one. The Elgin Road Racing association announced that the indications were that the grandstand, seating 10,000, will be too small, and orders were given to construct 1,000 additional seats. Race officials predict that 100,000 persons will witness the contests.

WRIGHT LOSES IN FINALS TO BUNDY

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—For the second time in his career, Beals C. Wright of Boston met defeat today in the final round of the All-Comers lawn tennis tournament on the Casino courts here, Thomas C. Bundy of Los Angeles beating him, 6-3, 6-3, 6-8, 10-8, in the final match.

Tomorrow the brilliant young Pacific coast player will meet champion William A. Larned of Summit, N. J., to decide the national title for the coming year.

It was the east against the west today in the final match of the thirtieth annual All-Comers singles national lawn tennis championship when Wright of Boston met Bundy of Los Angeles. Wright was a very slight favorite over his younger rival. Nevertheless the fast, steady game shown by Bundy in the tournament has won him many admirers among the experts. Bundy and Wright had never opposed each other before, and, as each used the same style and playing steadily all of the time, it seemed that the result hinged on the question of generalship.

The match drew the largest gallery of the tournament, and nearly all the tennis cracks of the country were in the grandstand.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—Cleveland today released Infielder Maurice Rath to Baltimore. Rath was secured from the Philadelphia Americans on the exchange for Outfielder Bristol Lord.

FORT LOGAN COMING TO PLAY THE ZOOZ

Having played everything from tailors to sailors, the Zooz will take on the Fort Logan soldiers in two games at Zoo park beginning Saturday afternoon.

The Fort Logan team is made up for the most part of officers, and from the record the squad has made this summer, having won from Kansas City, the Hofbraus and similar teams, the soldier aggregation should give the Zooz a good game.

A double-header will be tapped on Sunday afternoon, the first game, which starts at 1:30, being between the Fountain Speed Boys and the Twentieth Century team. As heretofore, Mr. Heath, the well-known and popular backstop, will direct the affairs of his team from his customary position back of the log. The Zooz will burst into the arena about 3:30.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Cy Seymour, center fielder of the New York Nationals, was sold ... more today.

Billy Sullivan of the Chicago Americans, who succeeded in catching a ball tossed from the top of the Washington monument yesterday after 23 attempts. The sphere traveled at the rate of 161 feet per second. Catcher Street is the only other man who has accomplished the feat.

TAFT PRESENTS CUP TO WINNER OF YACHT RACE

BEVERLY, Aug. 24.—The healths of the king of Spain and the President of the United States were drunk on board the yacht Mayflower today, when President Taft presented the Taft cup to Charles F. Adams of Boston, owner of the Harpoon, which won the recent races with the Spanish challengers.

The President and Senor Riano, the Spanish minister, exchanged felicitations, and both expressed hope that the recent races would bring the peoples of the two nations into closer association. The Spanish crews and the representative of the yacht clubs were guests of the President. The American crews were entertained on board the Mayflower.

THE DIFFERENCE.

THE Progressive Republican, whether he be fighting his battle in Maine or California, in Kansas or Michigan, stands squarely and all the time on the platform of public welfare against special privilege. Wherever he may be, his slogan is the same. He is not struggling for personal advantage, nor for partisan advantage, nor for sectional advantage; he is struggling for popular rights. And the battle for popular rights, as represented in the warfare on the tariff law, on the Cannon system of parliamentary autocracy, on the Ballinger brand of conservation, on standpatism in every form, on the corrupt alliance everywhere of politics and business, is in the largest sense a national issue.

The fundamental principle of Republican insurgency is that government shall be vested in the people and administered in the interest of the people, and the issue between those who support this doctrine and those who oppose it is far more clearly drawn than that between the Republican and Democratic parties. The Republican insurgent is today fighting within his party simply because he believes that through his party he can most efficiently serve the people. Should this hope miscarry there will be a new political alignment, with the champions of popular rights solidly arrayed against the equally solid phalanxes of special privilege.

One of the cardinal tenets of Republican insurgency is that the tariff shall not be permitted to serve as a wall behind which intrenched capital, protected from attack from without, may rob the domestic consumer. This broad position does not reject the principle of protection, but it does demand that the tariff shall be so framed as to protect primarily the people. Nor does it take cognizance of the particular desires of any class or any section. It demands scientific tariff revision, schedule by schedule, with due regard to the interests of American producers and with equal regard to the interests of American consumers. Its stand is consistent and unequivocal.

DEMOCRACY HOPELESSLY INCONSISTENT How different is that of the Democrats. In theory, as enunciated in its platforms from time immemorial, the Democratic party is unalterably opposed to the whole system of tariff protection. But there are almost as many different brands of Democratic tariff doctrine as there are Democrats. Some want absolute free trade, some a tariff for revenue only; some want raw materials admitted free, some do not. Some want a tariff on some commodities and others on others. What the Massachusetts Democrat favors the Texas Democrat opposes, and so it goes all over the country. The one certain way to find out how any individual Democrat stands on the tariff question is to ascertain what state he comes from, what particular part of it, what business he is engaged in or what particular interests he is identified with. If he is independently wealthy and has retired from business, he may take the position he does as a matter of principle, otherwise, not.

This pitiful condition of affairs was painfully revealed during the debate on the Payne-Aldrich law, when the Democratic Congressmen found it absolutely impossible to agree on any concerted line of action. It is brought to attention again by recent developments. The Democrats of Texas, in state convention a few days ago, declared unblushingly that they do not believe in the free raw materials plank of the 1908 platform. In Virginia, a Congressman who staunchly advocates a tariff on lumber has just been renominated over a candidate who stood squarely on the Denver platform. And the next few weeks will furnish additional evidence of irreconcilable confusion. It is next to a political impossibility for the Democratic party to wage a campaign this fall with any semblance of national unity on the tariff question, nor, for that matter, on any other public problem that presses for solution.

INSURGENCY THE CAUSE OF THE PEOPLE Right there is indicated the difference between Democracy and Progressive Republicanism. The one stands squarely and unequivocally on neither side of a vital issue. The other is aligned boldly and uncompromisingly on the side of the whole people against the whole system of public pillage, and its position as regards every phase of that huge conspiracy is as definite and specific as its basic theory is comprehensive.

It demands a tariff system that protects the producer, but not at the expense of the domestic consumer. It demands a conservation policy that prevents disposition of the public domain without adequate compensation to the public, that guards the national resources from spoliation and judiciously weighs the needs of the future against the demand for immediate exploitation. It demands the extinction of the trust, not as an industrial institution but as a tool of monopolistic aggression. It demands such regulation of the railroads as will bring them into a mutually equitable relationship with the public which they serve. It demands elective, legislative and administrative systems in state and nation that will give voice to and carry out the will of the people.

A forked stick is not needed to find the waters of Progressive Republicanism. On whatever ground the public stands in defense of its own rights, there they flow. For popular opinion is their fountain source.

FAKE MINING SCHEMES.

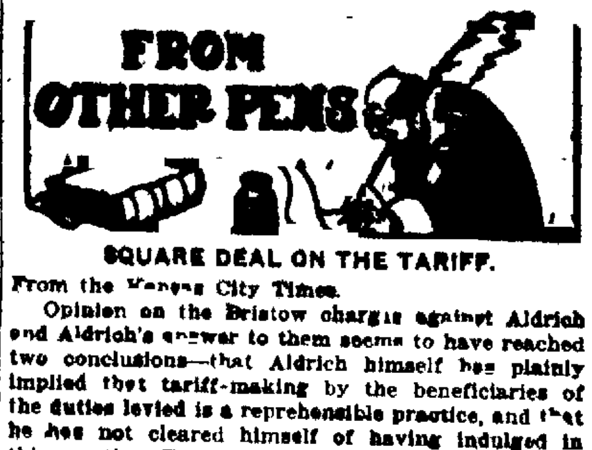
IT is probable that the recent estimate of a New York man, that the American people have "invested" more than $50,000,000 in fake mining schemes, is not an overstatement, but in any event it calls attention to the fact that enormous sums of money are thrown away in this manner, certainly more than is sunk in other fields of enterprise.

For every person who, if asked to buy a farm or put money into a manufacturing establishment, would inquire closely and carefully into every phase of the proposition before taking it up, there are a score who will buy mining stock without making any effort to learn anything about promoters or property. An attractive prospectus, an inviting advertisement or a plausible broker will often draw from its hiding place money that could not be dragged into a legitimate investment with a windlass.

Just why this is so, is hard to explain. One reason undoubtedly is that mining is widely looked upon as a get-rich-quick industry, it appeals to the imagination, and persons who entertain visions of sudden wealth do not as a rule stop to study investment opportunities from a strictly business standpoint. Buying mining stock is with them pure speculation, and, if they stop at all to consider the likelihood that a scheme may be a fake, they probably include that possibility as a part of the gamble.

Of course, persons who separate themselves from their money in this way have no one but themselves to blame, and sympathy bestowed upon them is wasted. Nevertheless, it would be a good thing if every state had laws that would effectively protect foolish and ignorant people from being "taken in" by the promoters of fraudulent mining schemes. The interests of the legitimate mining industry suffer more from the fakirs than do their immediate victims, not only because a great deal of money that might have gone into sound ventures is diverted, but because every time a man loses money in a fake promotion he becomes suspicious of every mining venture.

In this state the mining industry is on a substantial, conservative business basis. Nevertheless, it is certain that an immense amount of money has been withheld from investment in Colorado in the last few years as a result of the fakes perpetrated during the Nevada boom. One of the ideas which the recently organized Colorado chapter of the American Mining Congress plans to carry out is that of furnishing would-be investors with dependable information regarding mining companies and projects in this state, and it is to be hoped that a bureau of this character will be established.



SQUARE DEAL ON THE TARIFF.

From the Kansas City Times.

Opinion on the Bristow charges against Aldrich and Aldrich's answer to them seems to have reached two conclusions—that Aldrich himself has plainly implied that tariff-making by the beneficiaries of the duties levied is a reprehensible practice, and that he has not cleared himself of having indulged in this practice. Breaking silence under fire, and thereby violating a hitherto fixed and unalterable personal policy, indicates that even Aldrich saw that what once was regarded as an acceptable conventionality in tariff-making is now frowned upon as a governmental scandal. The Roosevelt standards of the square deal are being applied to the tariff.

THE REAL DREAMERS.

From the New York Evening Post.

It is easy enough to sneer at the sentimentalists who would bring peace into a world of struggle, and to point out that international peace congresses are usually the prelude or the postlude to sanguinary wars. But at bottom, it is not the advocates of the abolition of war who are the doctrinaires and dreamers, but their purely practical opponents. If there is any one thing that stands out clearly in the history of the last 10 years, it has been the growth of the international peace habit, with deepening of the world's yearning for peace. Sanguinary wars and timid peace congresses have brought disappointment and temporary disillusion, but it is a testimonial to the vitality of the peace idea that it should appear with undiminished vigor after every disappointment and every setback. Where 10 years ago a solitary—and strangely incongruous—voice for disarmament spoke up in the czar's palace, today the limitation of armaments is a subject of thought and discussion in every chancellery of Europe. It is in the permanency and universality of the interest which now attaches to the subject of international peace that we find the clearest indication of its strength. It no longer manifests itself in isolated congresses dealing specifically with peace. It breaks out in sovereigns' meetings, ministerial conferences, scientific congresses, labor congresses, and Socialist congresses. If international peace is indeed a dream, it is being dreamt so persistently and so widely as to take on, for practical purposes, the aspect of reality.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST WOMEN

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Doubtless the woman who in any humble sphere performs her whole duty does as much as angels can, and the world is filled with such high-minded, devoted, self-sacrificing women. But it was given to Florence Nightingale to accomplish more for the human race than almost anyone of her sex since the world began. When she started for the Crimea 55 years ago she became a pioneer in a new field of humanitarian work, which has now spread around the globe. It was one of the horrors of war at that time that on every battlefield there was lack of woman's nursing; there was dearth of woman's tears." War was still conducted in Homeric fashion. The wounded were given no more consideration than so many cattle. The law of the survival of the fittest was considered highly ethical. If a man was fit to live and fight again he would get over wounds and camp diseases; otherwise, he ought to die. The philosophy was that of Nietzsche, although he had not at that time propounded it.

Even the British generals opposed any such quixotic scheme as having women nurses in an army. Napoleon had never used such nurses, nor Caesar nor Alexander. Why make soldiers effeminate by such contact. But the terrible truth of the condition of the British army in the Crimea had reached England and the response was immediate. It was not thought necessary that men should die by thousands for want of a little attention, and so Florence Nightingale and her corps of nurses sailed away and a new chapter of history was opened. She was the real founder of the Red Cross societies which exist all over the world and which have saved millions of lives. She was the real founder of the system of trained nurses, those angels of mercy which are to be found in almost every home in time of sickness. In fact, there are no words to express the good she accomplished, the lives she saved, the pain which she has assuaged, as well as the better regimen of life which she and her system have established so largely throughout the world.

Yet, Florence Nightingale, in 1854, seemed to have before her a mere hum-drum existence. She seized the opportunity and by means of her intelligence and great executive ability created a new and growing and beneficent force in the world. The name of nearly every general who fought in the Crimea in any of the armies is forgotten, but the name of Florence Nightingale will last as long as humanity. She was the victor in that campaign. And what she did may, in greater or less measure, be accomplished by any woman of devotion, high ideals and energy who looks beyond self to the betterment of mankind. Florence Nightingale needs no monument. Her memorial is to be found in every spot of the civilized globe in the only form which is imperishable and eternal.

It is not well to scoff or jeer at other people's joys; the pastime that to you seems queer may please the other boys. One man's amusement in this life is playing dominoes, another fellow beats his wife, and gives his soul repose. One packs a heavy gun for miles through stream and swamp and fen, and wears all kinds of happy smiles when he comes home again. Another likes to risk his bones on flimsy aeroplane, and when we scrape him from the stones we weep for him in vain. One fellow thinks it fun to dodge the cops with speeding car, another likes to go to lodge, where all the passwords are. And all these things I understand, and sympathize with folks who rummage through the blooming land for pleasures and for jokes. But when I watch a statesman try to run an office down, and talk until the fount is dry, and bore the whole blamed town; and when I see him, worn and tired, a-hanging round the polls, to find that he's been canned and fired by patriotic souls, I ask such sphinxes as are near, "What sort of men are these, who chase for office year by year? Does such sport really please?"

The Daily Chit-Chat

Tired, mother?

Rather, dear.

But why, mother, with only four of us and this small house and all the washing and ironing put out, and a woman to do the cleaning—there surely can't be such a great deal to do.

"I seem to keep pretty busy."

"Now, mother, do you know what I think? I think you putter. I've been watching you and it seems to me that you do lots of little things you don't really need to. Now, for the next few days I wish you'd just try to let those little things go. Just do the regular routine of the things that positively have to be done, such as getting the meals, clearing them away, and doing the chamber work, and let the rest go. Every time you start to do any one of those things that isn't really necessary, just stop and make up your mind to let it slide. I'm sure you wouldn't get half so tired if you'd do that sometimes."

The little mother listened to her daughter's harangue at first indignant, then quizzical.

Then an idea seemed to come to her.

"Would you really like to have me try it, Marjorie?" she asked.

"Of course, will you?"

"I think I will," said the little mother slowly.

"Good, I'm sure that means that when I come home from work I'll find you much less tired. I'm sure you could be just as well as not if you didn't putter so."

The new order began the next day.

The first recognition of its presence was by Marjorie that night.

"Mother, what does ail Duke? He keeps coming in here and teasing for something."

"Perhaps he wants his supper, Marjorie. I thought that was outside of the regular routine that you outlined, so I didn't do it."

"Oh," from Marjorie, as she followed Duke out into the kitchen and picked up his pan.

"Perhaps you'd better tend to the bird, too," called the little mother. "Of course, I didn't touch him and his cage is awfully dirty."

The next morning Marjorie overslept and came hurrying down to the breakfast. "How much time have I got?" she demanded. "Why, what's the matter with that clock! It's stopped, mother."

"Yes," agreed the little mother serenely, "I didn't wind it, you know. I was afraid that was puttering."

"Mother," this from big brother that evening, "I can't find a match in a single match box in the whole house."

"Mother," this was from Marjorie the following morning, "I can't find my clean chemise. What did you say? You didn't think you ought to put away the clothes? Oh!"

"Mother," this was from father next day, "there hasn't been any soap in this bathroom for three days. What's the matter?"

"I can't find my clean collars, mother," this was from big brother. "You didn't send the laundry? Why not?"

"Mother," this was from Marjorie again, "what do you think has happened? The buttons weren't taken out of my white skirt and the washerwoman did it up with them in, and they've rusted and most ruined the skirt. Puttering? Oh, mother, that isn't fair. No, I'll take it all back if you'll just help me get the iron rust out of this skirt so it will be fit to wear canoeing tomorrow."

And then little mother, being one of that wonderful sisterhood of almost superhuman forgivers that all good mothers belong to, suppressed a desire to tell her daughter that getting the rust out of a white skirt was out of the prescribed routine, and patiently worked away at the stains until she had gotten them out and then pressed the skirt neatly.

That was the end of the experiment.

And Marjorie doesn't use the word "puttering" now.

I wonder if there is any suggestion in that little tale for any other Marjorie who can't see what her mother finds to keep her so busy all day.

LIFE LINES

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY IN EPIGRAM —Tedious.

Man can truly welcome the today when he has forgiven and forgotten the yesterday; duty has its beauty though man's journey be through the jungle.

Work shows the divinity that is in man; labor of head and hands shapes the expression of man's higher self in his unfoldment.

Men talk and tell what they will do when opportunity passes through, but when they see it they only sigh and say, "It's neither for you nor I."

Sympathy is but the symphony of the music of the soul; it rings out melodious, through the voice as you seek the poor, the friendless and the weak.

Man drifts if he does not think, the current carries him down stream if he does not put on steam to steer against its flow.

Man's promise is usually made on some plan that he hopes to work out when he can, the promise is too often made a prelude to work that is never begun.

Business is best done when industry is ever wreathed in cheerfulness; the sunny smile and kind face are the factors that efface all the frets from your fears.

Peace in the heart is potent to make you forget the test of yesterday and sunly await the best that is coming on the morrow.

You will never fear the trouble that comes your way if you are cheerful, but there will be ... the blessings of each day ... far.

DREW LOTS TO BE HEROES.

Paris Boys Fall Into the Seine to Be Rescued by Confederates

From the Kansas City Star.

PARIS.—A run on the Carnegie hero fund came to an end here recently through the watchfulness of the Paris police. For days the newspapers have been filled with acts of bravery by boys of from 12 to 16 years. Daily two or three rescues have been made from the river and canals by young boys.

It was recently discovered that there existed a band of small boys who were in the habit of drawing lots to see which should fall into the water and which one should be the "rescuer." Together the dripping lad and the "hero" would hurry to the nearest police station and claim the reward given the rescuer of the drowning person. After which the boys would sell the story to one of the newspapers and divide the proceeds.

Manitou News

WILL UNITE TO IMPROVE TOWN

RESIDENTS TO FORM A BOOSTERS CLUB.

Business Men Enthusiastic, Effect Organization in Near Future.

That Manitou is to have a permanent Boosters club, whose membership will consist of all the leading men and women of the town, and whose purpose will be to make this the most attractive summer resort in the west, was the announcement made yesterday. It is probable that steps in the organization of the club will be taken immediately upon the close of the tourist season.

"Such a club can be made one of the most important factors in making Manitou just what we want—the best summer resort in the west," said Postmaster H. H. Grafton, in discussing the proposed organization.

"In the first place, we all work together fairly well, anyhow, and I think this is one reason why we have had such a successful tourist season this year. We work together, but we lack organization. What we have already done, working as we have, is just a promise of what we might do.

"This Boosters club is the one thing that Manitou ought to have," said W. C. Jones, proprietor of the Home Dairy restaurant. "One of the most important advertising factors we can have is the visitor who goes home satisfied to tell his friends about Manitou and the excellent treatment he received. One of the chief duties of our club will be to investigate thoroughly all complaints made against the town, with a view of securing a remedy."

"I think one of the most important things that the club which we intend to organize would accomplish, is that of bringing about the erection of a large auditorium," said City Clerk H. J. Ross.

"We need a large auditorium in which the tourists may be amused with music on nights when the weather is inclement. Such an auditorium has been suggested by a number of people recently. It will also prove a drawing card for small conventions. At present we have no auditorium where conventions may be held and so a number of these gatherings go to Estes Park instead of coming to us."

"We have been trying to get a Boosters club for several years, and I think the organization will be effected this fall," said Judge W. D. Sawin, proprietor of the Manitou livery; "in the last 10 years, we have been slowly improving our town. The streets have been graded, curbings put in and everything done to make the town better every year. By means of some such permanent organization as this club, we can find out definitely what is needed and then go ahead and fill the need."

Woman 70 Years Old Walks to Top of Peak and Back

Mrs. Mary Powell, 70 years old, of Philadelphia, walked to the summit of Pikes Peak and back to Manitou in 24 hours. Mrs. Powell, who is a pedestrian of local repute in Philadelphia, found no trouble in making the walk although she admitted that she was "slightly tired" when she reached Manitou at an early hour yesterday morning.

"RACE WAR" AVERTED

The presence of City Detective Wolfe was all that prevented a miniature race war on the owl car early yesterday morning, between Manitou and Colorado City, when some alleged drunken negroes and whites became involved in a quarrel. The trouble, it is said, was caused by one of the intoxicated white men crowding against a negro. The latter started to retaliate with a blow when he was stopped by Wolfe, who kept the man quiet until Colorado Springs was reached.

After an uphill run, made in record breaking time, the Manitou fire department extinguished a blaze at the Juanita cottage. The damage, due to defective wiring, was slight.

Mrs. Sarah Gilkeson of Warrensburg, Mo., won the first prize, a handsome Van Briggle vase, offered by the management of the Mansions hotel in the bridge tournament, played off Tuesday night. The second prize, also a piece of Van Briggle pottery, was won by Miss C. Fantle of Sioux Falls, S. D. The bridge tournaments at the Mansions are proving among the most attractive diversions for summer visitors in Manitou.

There are so many reasons why Van Briggle Pottery should be your choice as a souvenir that it seems almost unnecessary to keep repeating them. In the first place there is nothing so characteristic of Colorado and it is characteristic in a beautiful way of the most beautiful parts of Colorado. Each piece is an individual work of art and will fittingly uphold the high artistic standard maintained in your home. You need not hesitate to use Van Briggle Pottery for flowers for it harmonizes delightfully with every color of wild and cultivated flowers. Its remarkable strength reduces the danger of breakage to a minimum and you assume no risk in carrying it home in a trunk. May we not assist you to choose a piece today?

"At the same time there are a lot of them. On the boat going over my neighbor in the dining saloon picked up a card the first day out, and glancing down it, said to the steward:

RICH ORE IN LAST DOLLAR

RENEWED ACTIVITY ON OLD PROPERTY.

Uncle Sam Mining Company Buys Half Interest in Finnerty Lease.

Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug 24 The Uncle Sam Mining company, a Denver corporation organized for leasing purposes in this district, has purchased an undivided one-half interest in the Finnerty lease on the south half of the Last Dollar claim on Bull hill, for a consideration not made public but representing a substantial amount.

The leasing company has agreed to retimber the shaft, and install mining machinery. The shaft timbers were burned out by fire in the spring of the year and the machinery and shaft house were totally destroyed.

Finnerty, who has since been working through the main shaft on the Last Dollar has opened up ore of high shipping grade at the 400-foot level, and has several carloads broken. The Uncle Sam company through its manager, Sam Parks, has ordered mining timbers delivered and the mining plant will be purchased in Denver by the resident officials of the company.

It is also reported that a deal is pending whereby the main workings are to become active, and the plant and compressor will then be used for the hoisting of ore and furnishing air to the lessees on the south shaft. The Last Dollar is owned by the Last Dollar Gold Mining company, a close corporation, and has a representative on the Uncle Sam board of directors in the person of F. E. Brooks of Colorado Springs.

The Uncle Sam Mining company is also operating a long time lease on the Camilla mine on Guyot hill, owned by the El Paso Extension Gold Mining company.

Acacia Activity.

The South Burns Leasing company, operating the South Burns of the Acacia Gold Mining company, has opened up a new vein for the property at the tenth or 1,000-foot level, and has commenced to save ore of milling grade while drifting north on the vein. At present the values are somewhat spotted, with occasional pockets of high grade, but the general average of the ore saved is of about one-ounce grade.

At the old Burns shaft, in the center of the claim, Bunch and McNamee, Altman miners, are producing and shipping about three cars a week from a new shoot entered at the 200-foot level. This ore is made by a split in the Burns basalt dyke, and ships at from $20 to $30 to the ton; the last settlement, made yesterday, was at the rate of $28 a ton.

Bennett and Purvis, well-known lease operators, have secured a prospecting permit from President and General Manager Kenneth McKenzie of the Acacia company, who is making his regular weekly visit to the property, to examine the workings of the Wrockloff shaft, under a lease option. These miners are well in touch with the Burns conditions, and will soon commence to ship.

The Pitch shaft on the Burns is under lease to Ward and Hill, lessees of the Pharmacist mine, adjoining. These operators are mining ore both on the Burns and Pharmacist claims, and this week will ship about 75 tons from the Pharmacist workings, of a good average milling grade.

On the Morning Star of the Acacia company, the Morris brothers of Cameron are saving ore from one of the old stopes that returns values in carload lots of about one ounce gold to the ton. These operators are also prospecting the Morning Star by crosscut.

Roosevelt Tunnel Progress.

The Roosevelt deep drainage tunnel had been advanced 266 feet in the first 22 days of August, and the daily gain made by Superintendent Charles H. Fuller and his miners will average a little better than 12 feet. Should a dyke or vein be encountered the gain would be greater, and such an occurrence may now be expected. For the first time since the tunnel was started, a crosscut is now being carried off from the main bore. The drive, but 45 feet in length, is projected to tap the drill hole churned down from the El Paso shaft. This work is progressing slowly, due to the unexpected handicap in the fork of steel plates, cars and steel left in the bottom of the shaft by the former management.

Modoc Milling Ore.

A carload of milling grade ore was consigned to the Golden Cycle mill at Colorado City today by the Snyder brothers, lessees on the Ocean View claim of the Modoc Gold Mining company. These lessees are operating a lease in the upper workings of the Modoc shaft. The company is developing the lower workings. Few cars of milling grade ore have been billed out from the Modoc, the bulk of the ore is shipped to the Eiler smelter at Pueblo, and has been of high average grade.

A glass bottle may be cut off easily by tying around it a piece of string saturated in kerosene, lighting the string and allowing it to burn until the bottle is heated then plunging the bottle into cold water.

STOCKS DECLINE UNDER PRESSURE

NEW YORK, Aug 24—Trading was limited in today's stock market and the outcome left prices of some of the more active issues from one to two points lower. Much of the pressure seemed to emanate from the short interest which forced stocks to a level where further liquidation was imminent.

Likelihood of a further tariff revision is not kindly regarded by Wall Street which today manifested its displeasure by selling stocks first in London and then here.

The most encouraging news of the day was that the strike of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company workers was over. This however, was neutralized by persistent rumors of further business stagnation, particularly in the steel and iron trade, together with circumstantial evidence that one of the largest of the independent companies in that line had ordered further curtailment of operations.

An official estimate of the wheat and oats crops in western Canada fixed the combined yield at about 100,000,000 bushels and was followed by a sharp decline in Canadian Pacific shares.

London sent in a lower range of quotations for American securities and the early session here responded with further losses, due to moderately heavy sales for European account. Foreign exchange advanced here again and gave color to the belief that gold shipments to South America will soon be announced.

A semiofficial statement, purporting to give the extent of the copper curtailment plan, declares that output by the leading producers here and abroad for the current month will show a reduction of almost 20,000,000 pounds and that this dimunition is to continue indefinitely.

The bond market was easy. Total sales, par value, $961,000.

GRAINS WEAKENED BY FREE SELLING

CHICAGO Aug 24—Wheat was weak and closed from ⅛ to ¼c off. Corn closed ¼ to ⅝ down after dragging all day while oats kept in a narrow range and finished weak ⅛ to ⅜ off. Provisions felt the weakness of grains and fell off generally, closing from 2½ to 22½c down.

Offerings were liberal in the wheat pit and a general desire to sell more than offset a number of bullish items which included higher foreign markets and a decrease in the estimated Saskatchewan crop, placed today by experts at 68,000,000 bushels against 90,000,000 bushels last year. Midway in the session there was a slight rally, traders being impressed by the break in prices. The advance was of little extent and short duration and toward the close the values sagged still further, the final quotations being almost at the bottom. Spring wheat estimates are larger than given out the first of the month. The close was weak all around with September 1⅛ to ¼ to ⅜c off at 98⅝c. December closed 1@1⅛c to 1¼ down at 1.02⅝@1.03.

Offerings of September and May corn were heavy and cash sales were liberal, with prices steady to ¼c down. No 2 yellow sold at 61½ to 62. The close was weak with September ¼ off at 60⅛. December closed ⅛ to ⅛ down at 58c.

A sluggish cash demand and liberal receipts gave a weak tone to the oats market. The close was weak with September ⅛ down at 34⅜. December finished ⅜ down at 36⅜.

Realizing sales weakened the provision market after a firm start. Closing figures September products were: Pork, 12½ to 15c down, lard, 11.90, 5c off, and ribs 12.15, 22½c off.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Colorado Springs Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out
Becomes lame, weak or aching,
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you
Here is local evidence to prove it.

Mrs John Hill, 1202 Grant street, Colorado Springs, Colo., says "I have nothing to retract from the public statement I gave in December, 1906 regarding my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me wonderfully at that time and I hold just as high an opinion of them now as when I first spoke in their favor. I had a burning sensation in my back and suffered greatly from pains through my loins. My limbs often became badly swollen and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Friends told me that these were symptoms of kidney complaint and being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a supply at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co. The contents of one box made a decided improvement and I continued taking this remedy until my trouble had been driven away. My willingness to again recommend Doan's Kidney Pills is due to the fact that my cure has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

S.S.S. A GREAT TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER

There is one reason above all others which makes S. S. S the greatest of all tonics, and that is because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. Any system which needs a tonic, needs a blood purifier, for it is impure, weak blood which causes the weakened, run-down condition of the body. S. S. S is Nature's Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which possess not only strengthening properties, but at the same time this combination of botanical juices and extracts is the most potent of all medicines for removing every impurity, poison or taint from the blood circulation. S. S. S improves the appetite and digestion, corrects stomach disorders, and steadily and surely tones and builds the system up to perfect health. It adds to the blood the rich, healthful properties it needs, and in every way enables the system to stand the strain of the long, hot Summer months. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other diseases or disorders due to impure or poisoned blood. Book on the Blood and any medical advice free to all who write.
